SCRIPTS FOR THE 8 STRATEGIES TO TURN A COLD LEAD WARM

Strategy #1: Borrowed Trust (Name Drop / Social Proof)

Mutual Friend Connection
"I was just talking to Sarah and she said I absolutely needed to come meet you. I actually came across something that's helping wellness businesses create additional recurring monthly revenue around something their clients already do every day — hydration. Would you be open to hearing a quick overview sometime?"

Shared Community
"We seem to run in very similar wellness circles, so I felt like there might be synergy here. I'd love to show you a concept that's helping businesses create an additional recurring income stream without disrupting what they already do. Would you be open to learning more?"

Same Gym / Church / Wellness Community
"I've seen you around the community for awhile and always respected what you're building here. That's actually why I thought of you specifically when I came across a wellness membership model businesses are using to create recurring monthly revenue. Would you be open to seeing how it works?"

Instagram / Social Media Connection
"I've been following your page for awhile and honestly love the community you're building. I actually thought of your business specifically when I started seeing wellness spaces implement a hydrogen water membership model. Would you be open to hearing how it works?"

Soft Curiosity Opener
"A few people actually mentioned your business when I started looking for aligned wellness spaces. I'm helping businesses create recurring revenue around a wellness membership concept and honestly thought your clientele would really resonate with it. Would you be open to learning more?"

More Postured / Confident Version
"You already have the hardest part built — the trust and community. What I'd love to show you is how some businesses are monetizing that in a very natural way through a hydrogen water membership model. Would you be open to a quick conversation?"

Strategy #2: Ask For A Warm Introduction

Text Your Network
"Hey! Random question — do you know any gym owners, chiropractors, wellness studio owners, or health-focused businesses you'd feel comfortable introducing me to? I came across a wellness membership concept that's helping businesses create recurring monthly revenue around hydration and I'd love to connect with a few aligned owners."

Strategy #3: Start Where You Already Are

Gym / Fitness Studio
"Hey, I've been coming here for awhile and really love the community you've built. I actually came across something that's helping fitness-focused businesses create recurring monthly revenue around hydration and recovery. Would you be open to hearing a quick overview sometime?"

Chiropractor / Wellness Practitioner
"You've already built so much trust with your patients, which is honestly why I thought of you specifically. I came across a wellness membership concept that could create an additional recurring revenue stream while adding value to your patient experience. Would you be open to learning more?"

Coffee Shop / Wellness Café
"I'm in here all the time and always thought your clientele would really resonate with something health-forward and community-driven. I'd love to show you a simple concept businesses are using to monetize something customers already do every day — drink water. Would you be open to seeing it?"

Massage Therapist / Wellness Studio
"I already know how much you care about helping people feel better naturally, which is why I thought there could be alignment here. I came across a hydrogen water membership concept that's creating recurring income for wellness businesses while supporting client wellness. Would you be open to hearing more about it?"

Places You Already Spend Money
"I already support this business and genuinely believe in what you're building here. That's actually why I wanted to bring this to you specifically. Would you be open to seeing a concept that's helping businesses create an additional recurring income stream around wellness and hydration?"

More Casual / Natural Version
"Honestly, I thought of your business immediately when I came across this because your clients already value health and wellness. Would you be open to a quick conversation about a membership concept that could fit really naturally into what you already do?"

Strategy #4: Engage Before You Ever Walk In

Followed Their Page / Engaged Online
"Hey! I've actually been following your page for awhile and really love the community and energy you've built here. I thought of your business specifically when I came across a wellness membership concept that's helping businesses create recurring monthly revenue around hydration. Would you be open to hearing a quick overview sometime?"

Responded to Stories / Familiarity Built
"Hey! We've interacted a little on Instagram and I've honestly loved watching what you're building. I recently came across something that felt really aligned with your clientele and business model. Would you be open to learning more about it?"

Shared Their Business / Supportive Approach
"Hey! I've been supporting and sharing your business online because I genuinely love what you guys are doing. That's actually why I thought of you specifically when I started seeing wellness businesses implement a hydrogen water membership model. Would you be open to seeing how it works?"

More Casual / Natural
"Hey! I feel like I already know your business from following along online for awhile. I came across something that could fit really naturally into the wellness culture you've created here. Would you be open to a quick conversation sometime?"

More Confident / Postured
"I've been watching what you're building online for awhile and honestly think there could be strong alignment here. I'd love to show you a concept that's helping wellness-centered businesses create additional recurring revenue in a very natural way. Would you be open to hearing more?"

Strategy #5: Lead With Value Not Opportunity

Revenue-Focused / Business Value
"I came across something that's helping wellness businesses create an additional recurring revenue stream around something their clients already do every day — hydration. Would you be open to seeing what some businesses are doing with it?"

Curiosity + Numbers
"If I could show you a simple model that's generating an extra $1,000–$2,500/month for some wellness businesses without disrupting what they already do, would you be open to a quick conversation?"

Client Experience + Revenue
"I think your clientele would really resonate with this because it adds value to their wellness experience while also creating recurring monthly income for the business. Would you be open to hearing more?"

Soft / Natural
"I came across something recently and your business immediately came to mind. It's a wellness membership concept tied to hydrogen water that businesses are using to increase client engagement and recurring revenue. Would you be open to learning more?"

More Postured
"I don't bring this to every business, but I think there's strong alignment with what you've already built here. Would you be open to seeing a model that's helping wellness businesses monetize hydration in a very natural way?"

Short & Simple
"Would you be open to seeing a concept that could create additional recurring monthly revenue for your business while also adding value to your clients?"

Strategy #6: Use Observational Openers

Water / Beverage Observation "I noticed you already prioritize hydration and wellness in your business, which is actually why I thought there could be alignment here. Would you be open to seeing a concept that's helping businesses create recurring monthly revenue around hydrogen water memberships?"

Health-Conscious Clientele "You have a really health-conscious clientele here, and honestly, those are the exact kinds of communities responding really well to this. Would you be open to hearing how some wellness businesses are implementing it?"

Community / Culture Observation "You've built a really strong community here — people clearly trust you. I actually came across something that could both add value to your clients and create additional recurring income for the business. Would you be open to a quick conversation about it?"

Recovery / Wellness Focus "I can tell your business already emphasizes recovery, wellness, and client experience. That's exactly why I thought of you specifically. Would you be open to seeing a wellness membership concept tied to hydrogen water?"

Existing Retail / Add-On Services "I noticed you already offer wellness products and additional services beyond your core business. I came across something that could fit really naturally into what you already do. Would you be open to learning more?"

More Postured / Selective "I don't bring this to every business, but your clientele and community immediately stood out to me as a strong fit. Would you be open to hearing a quick overview of what some businesses are doing with hydrogen water memberships?"

Strategy #7: Position as a Collaborator: Not a Salesperson

Revenue Partner Positioning "I help wellness-focused businesses create additional recurring revenue around something their clients already do every single day — hydration. Would you be open to seeing what that could look like?"

Business Growth Framing "One thing I'm always paying attention to is simple ways businesses can increase recurring revenue without adding a lot of extra workload. Would you be open to seeing a model that's been working really well in wellness spaces?"

Curiosity-Based "I had a thought when I saw your business… your clientele is already health-conscious and committed to wellness. Would you be open to seeing how some businesses are monetizing that in a really natural way?"

Strategy #8: Use the Micro-Ask

Time-Based Micro-Ask
"Hey, I know you're busy — can I take literally 2 minutes to show you something I think could fit really naturally into your business?"

Income Curiosity Micro-Ask
"If I could show you a simple way wellness businesses are generating an extra $1,000–$2,500/month around hydration, would you be open to seeing it?"

Client Benefit Micro-Ask
"If there were a way to add value to your clients while also creating recurring monthly revenue, would you be open to hearing about it?"

Wellness Space Specific
"I've been sharing this with a handful of wellness-focused businesses because the model makes so much sense for their clientele. Would you be open to hearing how it works?"

Confident + Postured
"I only share this when I genuinely think there's alignment. Would you be open to a quick conversation to see if it could make sense for your business?"